

Job Pack

Appointment of Executive Assistant

Application Deadline: Ongoing Until Post Filled

Welcome from our CEO

Thank you for your interest in the role of at Disability Rights UK.

Having entered our second decade, this is an exciting time to join DR UK. We are a Disabled People's Organisation (DPO), which is an organisation for Disabled people that is led and controlled by Disabled people where at least 75% of the board and 50% of staff identify as Disabled. We actively demonstrate our commitment to the Social Model of Disability through our work and hiring practices.

We are part of a UK wide movement of Disabled people led organisations and Disabled people campaigning for equity, equality and inclusion to be embedded in everyday life. We have built key partnerships with allies and funders and have an effective working relationship with government departments and policy makers.

The last few years have been very difficult for Disabled people and their organisations – during the pandemic our hard-won rights were challenged, and Disabled people are being disproportionately affected by the cost-of-living crisis. We were never more needed than now.

Within this document you will find background information about the organisation, job description, person specification and information about how to apply. If you would like a chat about the vacancy, or have any questions, please contact us at recruitment@disabilityrightsuk.org

Kamran Mallick

CEO of Disability Rights UK

About Us

We are Disabled people leading change

Disability Rights UK is the leading charity of its kind in the UK. We are run by and for people with lived experience of disability or health conditions.

We are committed to the Social Model of Disability and led by people with lived experience of disability or long-term health conditions. 85% of our trustees have personal experience.

DR UK is a member-led charity, with disabled people and organisations led by disabled people having the controlling vote.

We are committed to working with and for people with all types of impairment and health conditions.

Last year we reached more than 1.2 million people with information developed by and for disabled people

Our free factsheets attracted 1.8 million downloads and over 90% of users said our factsheets were useful to their purposes.

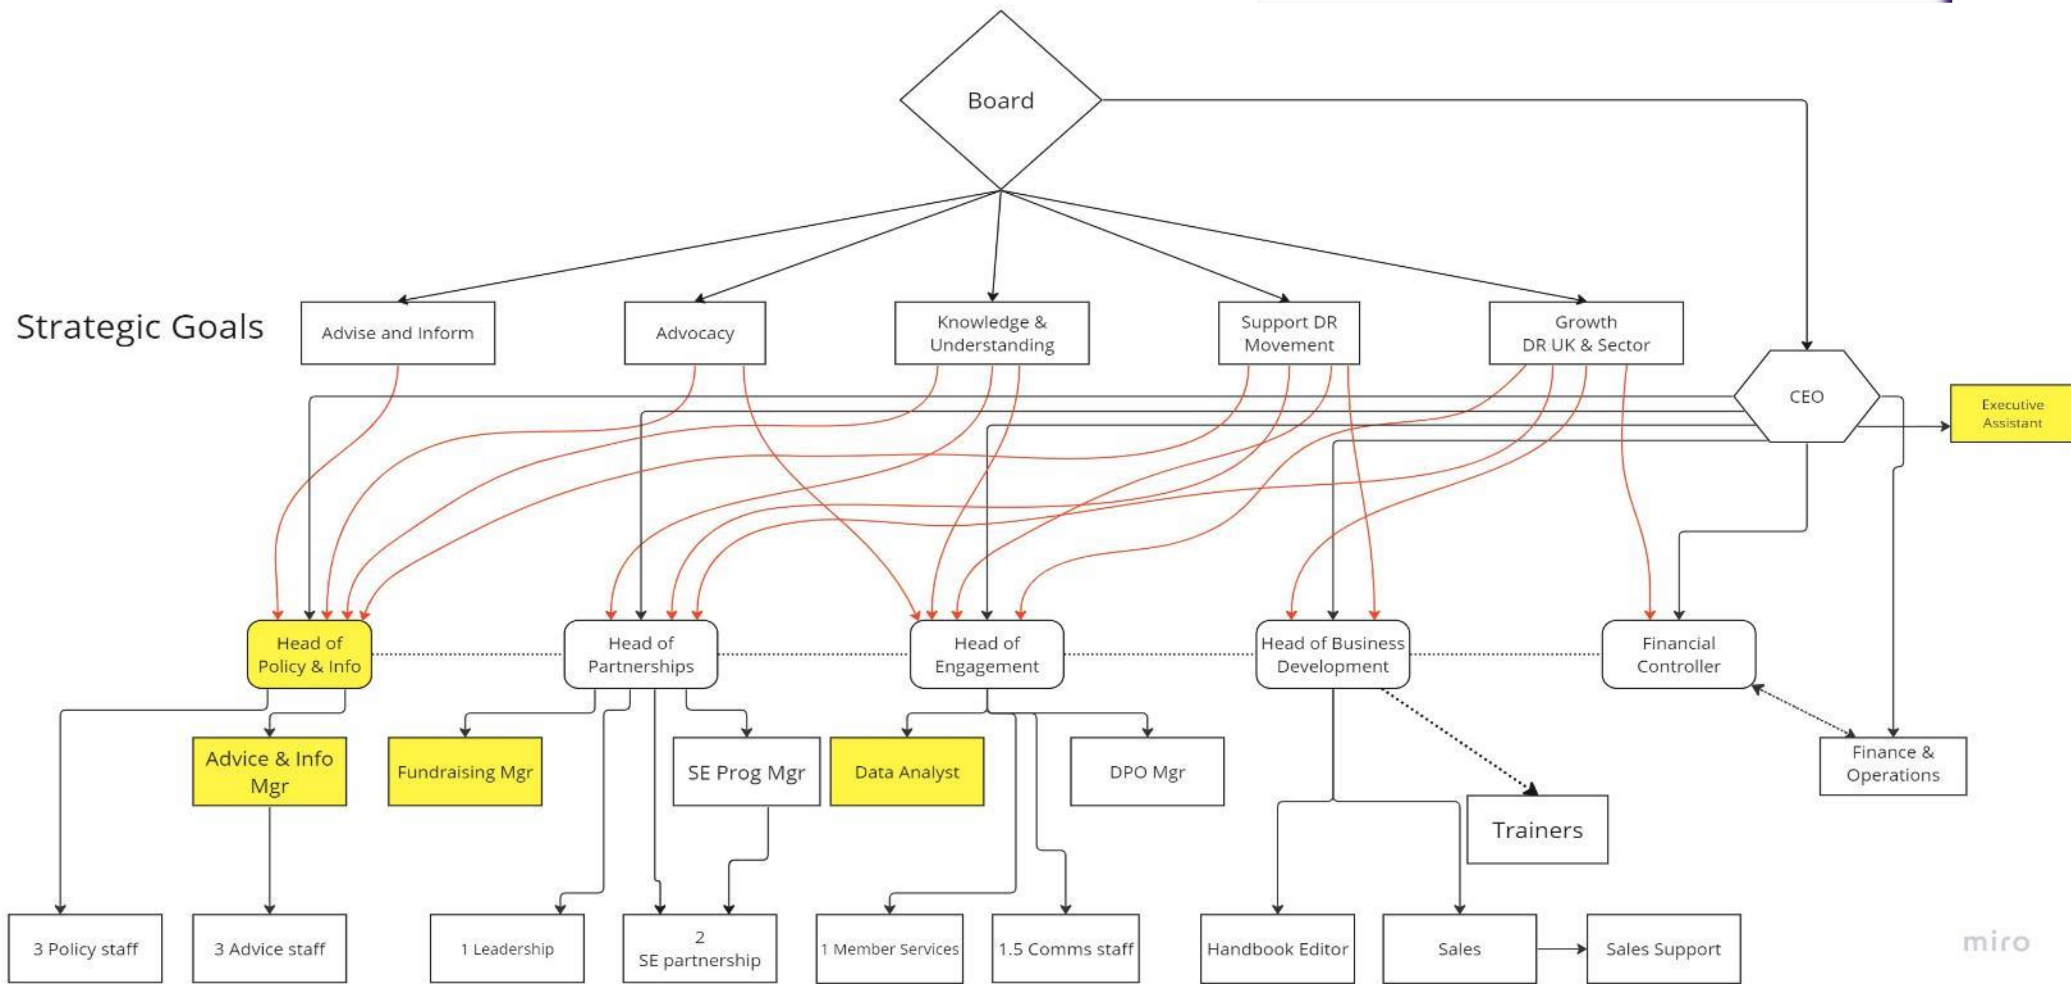

We had 10,000 contacts with individuals through events and our independent living advice line, student and members helpline and information line.

In 2020, as we went into lockdown and closed the office, we set up a weekly meeting of CEOs and Policy staff from Disabled People's Organisations. The group, Our Voices continues to meet, sharing knowledge, speaking with a unified voice on the inequalities that continued through the pandemic.

Our Disability Rights Handbook continues to be a vital support for Disabled people. Written by benefits specialists, this guide to benefits is now published online and in print.

We work in partnership with funders to test ways to break down systemic barriers faced by Disabled

- Manage the office, updating the office tracking sheet, ensuring meeting rooms and resources are available, and liaising between team and office staff.
- Supporting organisation wide events including staff training.

Other information

Our CEO, Kamran Mallick, is a wheelchair user. To enable Kamran to carry out his role to the very best of his ability, there are times when he needs support that the EA would provide. Below is an example of what this could mean practically for you:

- Kamran has a meeting in central London at 9 a.m., and he may ask you to meet him either at his home in NW9, our office in London, or the meeting venue. This would depend on his pain levels and what he may need to take with him, such as equipment (eg laptop) and papers. While in the meeting you may be asked to take notes, or you would be able to continue with your own work remotely.

- If meeting him at his home, you would accompany him in a minicab to the venue. You would ensure that his bag, papers, and work phone are kept with him and available as needed. Kamran may need support navigating difficult routes to the meeting and support with physical obstacles such as doors, ramps, etc. If the meeting is over lunch, you may be asked to pick up lunch locally, or there may be a buffet style lunch provided, which he would need support with.
- As CEO, Kamran is often asked to travel out of London to attend conferences and events. You would accompany him, travelling by train/car and providing support as needed. A few times in the year, he would need to travel up the day before and stay overnight. You may be required to accompany him on these trips, too.

Please consider this when thinking about applying for the role. If you would like to have a discussion with Kamran to explore this further please get in touch, and we will set this up.

Person Specification

- Personal experience of disability
- Self-direction/autonomous worker - Capacity to take high levels of ownership over your work, anticipating problems that may arise, diagnosing need and changing course quickly; taking initiative within the role to ensure success.
- Ability to learn from others' expertise - to continually grow your skills, and make a success of tasks at hand.
- Strong communicator - A clear communication style which is concise and effective - both verbally & written - as well as strong interpersonal skills.
- Stakeholder management - Evidence of having established, developed and managed effective relationships with a range of senior stakeholders, both internally and externally.
- Organisation & project management – A track record of coordinating projects to tight timelines and a high standard, communicating proactively if timelines need to shift; as well as sharp attention to detail and thorough approach to organisation and project management.
- Agility in problem-solving – Ability to think creatively/laterally and strategically to find the most effective solution.
- Values – Commitment to the values of Disability Rights UK including the social model of disability and diversity and inclusion.

All of the above will be assessed through the application and the interview process.

Role Details

This is a full time, permanent role. The salary on offer is between £30,000 - £32,500 depending on track record and experience.
